Video downloader for YouTube, Miro, and other online video sources. Download movies and TV-episodes from YouTube and Miro. The newest version comes with enhanced download manager, a new download category, and a new batch mode. Download from YouTube and other websites This application is available for Windows, Linux and BSD. It allows you to download videos from YouTube and countless other websites. The program does, however, have a downside to it. It works fine, but unlike other such programs, it can only export content to MP4. So if you are looking to download music videos as audio files, you will need a converter as well. Download more than just single videos As with most video downloaders, the procedure is easy. You just need to copy and paste the URL address into the application, and then it will retrieve it for you. Unlike most other programs, however, Tartube doesn't only download a single video at a time. You have the option to also download playlists or even entire channels at once. If there are multiple videos that you would want to get from the same entity, then you don't need to worry about having to copy and paste every single URL. You can either download the entire channel or playlist or enlist their entire content and choose which ones you want. Final thoughts Overall, the program is very good. It has its downside where it cannot download to multiple formats, yes, but it more than makes up for it, in my opinion. There are other programs that let you download video files in batches, but the fact that you can download an entire playlist or channel is simply amazing. 3.7 out of 5 based on 13 ratings. A Trembler mouse is a mutant strain with a distinctive gait defect characterized by a tendency to drag the hindlimbs on a rigid surface. We have used the Trembler mouse as a model for studying the effects of L-DOPA on locomotor behaviour. Like the cat Parkinson's disease model, Trembler mice are insensitive to the L-DOPA-induced acceleration of locomotion but show a dose-dependent increase in motor activity upon L-DOPA administration. Trembler mice are not deficient in dopamine receptors and they have no detectable alterations in their striatal dopamine metabolism. The mutation causing the
