Request - The Complete Rimmel Satin Finish Eyeshadow Palette I know I'm mostly likely to get flamed because I have a horrible eye colour, but I'm hoping that someone here can give me some info as to whether or not I like the look of the new Rimmel Satin Finish Eyeshadow Palette. I picked up the new Rimmel Satin Finish Eye Shadow Palette at Walmart (City Target) here in Calgary over the weekend and I just swatched the palette out of the packaging (I haven't used the actual products yet) and I really liked what I saw so I was wondering if anyone else had tried it and had any suggestions or comments about the eyeshadows. And of course I can't wait to get it so I can swatch and review it. It's a nice palette, but I don't think it's as nice as it looks in the pictures. It's nice and soft, there are a few shades that are buttery-y, so no problem for blending, but they are a bit sticky. If you apply these with a brush first, it helps it not be as sticky. After putting them on my eyelid, I gently pat with a tissue and the outer edges fall down nicely. I think you don't have to pay for the brush in this palette, you can get it for free with a bit of your swatching. The caspase-3 and -8 activities in astrocytes were
