Offworld Trading Company is a casual economic simulation where you manage a corporation in a futuristic market sector dominated by corporations. As the President of the Blue Chip Ventures corporation, your goal is to earn the most credits and contracts, and make your shareholders extremely wealthy. Offworld Trading Company (Offworld) puts the player in control of their very own corporation. Through an intuitive-to-learn controller system, players can set their own stall hours, buy and sell commodities, take on contracts, and manage a team of employees. Players may earn from playing, or through a "game loop" that simulates the real-world market. As the President, players must balance their own income with any debt that their corporation has acquired. The story is about Blue Chip Ventures, a corporation so successful that they are now operating outside of Earth's economic system. Players will find themselves assuming the role of CEO or President of a corporation known as Blue Chip Ventures, and it is their job to lead their team and explore the market. Players work within a market sector, comprised of five islands, each with its own natural resources and development opportunities. There are two types of resources: "natural" resources, which can be extracted through drilling, and "unconventional" resources, which are extracted through specialization (e.g., reconstituting a technology when a failed attempt has rendered it entirely useless). There are also five different types of technologies that can be specialized. Players can gain an economic advantage by focusing on their resources and technologies, expanding their markets, or specializing their own gameplay styles. Offworld takes place in the distant future. Players can choose to play as either humans, androids, or aliens. Each race has their own unique abilities. For example, androids have greater tanking ability than humans. The game opens with players using real-world money in the economic simulation. Offworld will use its own currency throughout the simulation, so that players can be encouraged to learn trading and management skills outside of simple repetition. ----- Amazon.com Widgets ----- What is Steam? (click to play) Add music to your Cat's Cradle gameplay experience by adding it to the in-game music playlist. This includes 5 long tracks that play when different cards are played. Each track, as noted above, has multiple parts and will play automatically at a time. Full Details: Full music set to play through the game. Every card type uses a different track. Five tracks each with up to eight parts for each track. Each part is one second in length. Plays automatically. SoundtrackCat's Cradle: 8/5/10/10/8/10/9/10/8 Playlist Cat's Cradle Short Music Video For a short one second video, put the following URL into the search bar: catscradlecat'scradlecat'scradlecat'scradlecat'scradle Note: This video will only work if your computer is on the same LAN or internet connection as the author's computer. The video does not work over the internet. How To Run The Soundtrack When you start Cat's Cradle (version 1.02 or later), the game will load up as if you had never run it before. That is, the game will open up as if you were playing a new game. If you load the game up from the Cat's Cradle Archives (1.3.0), you will see the soundtrack. Use the volume button on your keyboard to adjust the volume. If you want to share the soundtrack with other players, simply copy the file to a USB thumb drive. How To Run The Music When you play Cat's Cradle, you have two ways to control the soundtrack. You can either select the "Fully Mixed and Stereo" option in the video options to play back in stereo, or you can select the "Only Alternate Sides" option to only play back the songs that you have assigned alternate sides for. You can set the volume level of the soundtrack for either of these options in the video options, by pressing X or Y on the keyboard. Song Credits When you play Cat's Cradle, you can hear a few notes before each game is played. These are notes played to simulate the appearance of cards being pulled from the Cradle before the game begins. Playlist: 3/5/3/4/4/

(CEO & Founder) Uniform page is a professional site that provides good information to help you choose a good uniform for your children. They provide most of the information you need regarding the research and reveal some of the stuff not yet discovered. Well, Hee Min Lee also tried this website but unfortunately found it some bit childish rather than useful in some aspects. Maybe some of you know about this site and will be able to put some of their information into something useful for us on this website. I joined up in Uniform as Hee-min Lee via PM to protect him from the trolls but he has not given his address and email. Thanks in Advance. Hi, I tried their feedback system and the rep. yesterday. I entered my idea into the feedback system and I waited for the feedback and I found the email of the person who I submitted it to. But I got a message that said "Confidentiality matters most, please ignore the junk mail from Uniformpop". So I don't know if they would give out my information to anyone. Before I decided to buy the uniform since it would start soon. Quote: Originally Posted by Cornflake Hi, I tried their feedback system and the rep. yesterday.
