Category:HypocorismsQ: add user to role with SQL in MSSQL Server I'm having a strange problem. My problem is basically that I have a stored procedure that should add a user to a role and another stored procedure that should remove a user from this role.

This problem is however, not unique for me. The problem here is that the procedure that adds the user to a role will add several users to this role even if only one should be added. I'm using SQL 2008 R2 and the target database is a database on our test server. My procedure looks like this: `/*PROCEDURE add_user_to_role (user_name) AS */ declare @new_role nvarchar(max) -- add a user to role for testing insert into @new_role exec sp_addrolemember 'dbowner'

,@user_name /*PROCEDURE remove_user_from_role (user_name) AS */ declare @delete_role nvarchar(max) --`
