There are currently 159 resources available for this particular issue of which 95 are in English.Q: Why does the aggregation command gives me a blank page? Question is about Cypher aggregation command: MATCH (n:node{name:"GG"}) WITH n.name AS name1, n.id AS id1 RETURN name1, id1 When I execute this, I get a blank page. I wonder why? A: Cypher does not allow you to aggregate nodes. But you can do this: MATCH (n:node{name:"GG"}) UNWIND n.id AS id1 UNWIND n.name AS name1 RETURN name1, id1 Also, you might not need to unwind each element. I don't know how your data is structured, but assuming you only have one id or name per node, this would be the equivalent of the above: MATCH (n:node{name:"GG"}) RETURN n.name, n.id 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a connector connecting system for connecting a plurality of first connectors and a plurality of second connectors. 2. Description of the Related Art Japanese Patent Application Laid-Open No. 2011-166770 discloses a first connector and a second connector connected by a connector connecting system. This connector connecting system can reliably connect the first connector and the second connector even if the first connector and the second connector are displaced relative to each other. That is, the first connector and the second connector are caused to abut each other in a state where the first connector and the second connector are partly displaced from each other. Then, the first connector and the second connector are further displaced such that the inner surface of the first connector and the inner surface of the second connector come into intimate contact with each other. By doing so, the first connector and the second connector are reliably connected. If the first connector and the second connector are distorted by a long operation time or the like, however, the first connector and the
