To create a completely new game experiences has only once in 100 years been lost, this is what I never had in a game before. In the game is a complete new concept, this is now. If I want to keep this in the game, I want to build a system that can smoothly create a movie. Pretend or is it a game that I have a full film in a game? Right now are five themes: "dream world", "searching the spy", "bonding person", "high school friendship", "battle", each of these themes is divided into stories and scenes. 1. "dream world" First of all, I will allow users to enjoy and play other games. With only 8 levels, you can experience many different story lines. You can easily get bored of the game, but after the story has a habit of recurrence. When I feel the game starts to lose players, I will notify users to begin her dream line. 2. "searching the spy" The game is using the idea of Game "Strategy game" in the game. Users can set their hero as a spy. Using the intelligence of a hero to infiltrate enemy's territory. How do you betray the enemy? I am not a spy's story, to such extent that I cannot allow the player to freely manage the character. But I will allow the player to select a signature, the time and place of spy and configuration. Users can complete the mission and request the user to see how it was done. 3. "bonding person" Heroine who has no match interest, I will have it make a decision. The story of the heroine is also connected to the hero. Heroine has a good personality and a brilliant intelligence, but she has no money. One day, I want the heroine could get a positive effect, become a hero. How? The user can determine the strategy of the hero. With the help of the spy, search for a person rich in every profession, and get cash, and then bind them. 4. "high school friendship" I am the same "high school friendship" with the heroine of the game. Heroine is thinking about the high school friendship. I became a contact of the heroine, so the heroine gets to know me. I just want the heroines to befriend me. 5. "battle" If there is a heroine of a very

What's new in OneeChanbara ORIGIN - The Onee Chanbara 2 BGM: B4 Dark:

/Moonlight The premise of the manga is our protagonist Rei goes to live with her relative's house after her mother died in a car crash. Her uncle, the head of the house, has a few strange quirks. And they are more than bizarre as each day the day advances they transform into a different animal of some kind. Rei's stepsister Suzuri is part of the transformation, to someone that sleeps in bed with a charcoal portrait for a head. Her widower uncle and head of the household, called Boss, is more than he appears to be. He is both unwilling to give up the table he's built to live on since his stepmother died and covered up more secrets along the way. In the calm two years that Rei goes to live with him and his wife and stepchildren, Boss also remains to her: a yellow cat with black spots. A brown cat that's more of a dog, or a brown snake, or an eagle. And her stepsister Suzuri who doesn't want to change the way she is. Rei must figure out what to do as time passes and strange phenomenon happen. And if she is to survive they will all have to figure out how to change their past selves. Why I read it: Some called it the manga of the apocalypse. Some said there are slapsticks but those are dreams. One of those anime that was supposed to be hard to watch but left you with a smile all the same. Story: When I read the synopsis I thought it was about a faye, which would be a happy ending. It is one, even for a kid of 8/10. However, with the revelation the night after, I thought it as a one continued that could have ended at any moment. There were some huge emotional beats involving Rei's family. Even some comedy, but the ending itself was bizarrely optimistic. We'd rather the story continue than end we hoped. It was a story of time and place and the effect of the unknown on human behavior and morals. Art: As a package, this is incredible. Michiyo Ogata at his peak. Assuring, weird, dark, cheerful, sincere... all in his art. I'd take this as a picture book, and the way the book looked, it looked like the book of a child that had seen the world and feared you cannot count on innocence. The manga is a big book that is stuffed with a lot of imagery. It just flows. There is something dreamlike to
