Top 20 YouTube Videos Of All Time You may not realize it but if you're a YouTube user you've almost certainly been influenced by one of the videos posted on the site at some point. The videos have now become so influential that a new hall of fame has been launched, thanks to Business Insider. The list only takes into consideration videos uploaded on YouTube before the year 2000, with that timeline chosen as a yardstick for measuring the success of individual videos. Here's a selection of the top 20 YouTube videos of all time as chosen by Business Insider. 20. "Happy Birthday" by Pharrell Williams When you think of 'The Boss', it's hard to think of a more iconic boss than Pharrell. And this clip from his recent album 'Happy' has him singing his classic song with the sheer joy of a school kid, following it with a long list of names and then reaching for the 'call to arms'. 19. "Smells like Teen Spirit" video has gone down in history as a classic and rightly so. It was made during the height of Nirvana's popularity and the band played all their biggest hits on the tour which was captured in the video. 18. "Who Let The Dogs Out?" by Flogging Molly The musical gods must really love a good song about the Irish pub. 'Who Let the Dogs Out?' by Flogging Molly is guaranteed to get any Irishman to bring in the traditional fare. At least it did for us! 17. "Dry Bones" by Green Day This is about as successful a collaboration as the internet can offer and has some great Billie Joe interview footage as well
